Orange HRM

Orange HRM is the most popular open source human resource management software. With the help of TestLink - an open source Test Management Tool, I have created test scenarios, test cases and executed them. Using Bugzilla - a Defect Tracking System, I have tracked, managed the defects and created the defect report. Both, TestLink and Bugzilla are tools used for Manual Testing. Then, with the help of Selenium - an open source software testing framework for web application, I have learned to write test scripts, and run them against various browsers. I have also used TestNG - an open source automated testing framework for writing flexible and powerful tests.

Using Tosca Testsuite - a fully integrated software testing tool used to automate end to end testing, I have learned how to combine, and work on multiple aspects of testing on one single tool.
